The Student Government Association is now moving forward from what was almost an impeachment of an executive member. Last week a committee of six randomly chosen senators met to discuss the charges written against the individual in the petition. The committee met, and decided that there was not enough evidence against the individual charged to follow through with the impeachment process.

SGA stayed quiet throughout the process, trying not to attract too much attention from the student body. Which also included most of the members of the organization.

While being left in the dark for most of the hearings, most members say they are happy the individual did not get impeached because they look forward to working with them for the duration of the school year.

SGA is now looking to move forward and build up the organization.
